Hospitality's Premier Management Publication

Editor: Linda Canina, School of Hotel Administration, Cornell University

Cornell Hospitality Quarterly (CQ) focuses on publishing scholarly research with hospitality management implications. The articles, written by academics and industry leaders develop new ideas and perspectives.

In addition to articles, we also publish cases with commentary, as well as industry perspectives on current issues concerning industry executives. Like the hospitality industry itself, the editorial content of CQ is broad, including topics in strategic management, consumer behavior, marketing, financial management, travel and tourism and more.
